The Sarah Sunstrum and John Dunning lots (in south half of range 4) later became part of the village of Quyon (divided from Onslow township along the midline of Range 4).

Finally, there's some information in "The Quio" How Quyon came to be, by James Robinson. In Appendix D, List of land grants & sales 1805 to 1890 these lines appear, (from List of Lands granted by the Crown in the Province of Quebec, 1891, Archives of Quebec):
1808 Salmon Dunning 1221 acres
1808 Samuel Marsh 1249 acres
1835 Tiberius Wright, 329 acres
1846 Ruggles Wright Sr 326 acres
1861 Ruggles Wright, 300 acres
1862 Andrew Lunstrum (sic) 100 acres
1862 Sarah Strip, widow of Andrew Lunstrum, 50 acres
1862 James Lunstrum, 50 acres

Whoever transcribed the records seems to have misread Sunstrum as Lunstrum. In the ag census the handwriting is difficult, (I read it as Simstrim!) - and the first letter is definitely an S!

Appendix A of "The Quio" How Quyon came to be, by James Robinson, is a list of householders from 1841 to 1901, an edited list from the 1841, 1861, 1881 and 1901 censuses, with head of household only. There are no Sunstrums (spelled correctly) and I assume the various Lunstrums/ Limstrims are mis-readings of the handwriting.
